

Sheila Leigh

Working as a physiotherapist at Alberta Children's Hospital, Sheila has spent the last twenty years coordinating seating and wheelchairs for children with disabilities, including children with Cerebral Palsy. Retired but always in motion, Sheila has tackled twelve marathons, holds a position as her parish council secretary, and creates homemade preserves to sell at local markets. Even her musical interests take the show on the road, with previous board involvement as a member and one term president of Calgary's Round Up, Stetsons and Stampede Show bands, when her son and daughter were members of the bands.
